

The Communist Attack On U S Police

The Communist Party USA (CPUSA) has a long history of supporting violence against law enforcement officers. In recent years, this support has intensified, as the CPUSA has increasingly aligned itself with other radical left-wing groups that advocate for violence against the police.

The CPUSA's History of Violence

The CPUSA was founded in 1919 by a group of American communists who had been expelled from the Socialist Party of America. From its inception, the CPUSA has been a staunch advocate for violence as a means of achieving political goals. In the 1930s, the CPUSA played a leading role in organizing the Popular Front, a coalition of left-wing groups that supported the Soviet Union. The Popular Front was responsible for a number of violent attacks on police officers, including the 1932 Battle of Blair Mountain in West Virginia.

During the Cold War, the CPUSA continued to support violence against the police. In the 1960s and 1970s, the CPUSA was involved in a number of bombings and other attacks on police stations and police officers. In the 1980s, the CPUSA was one of the main organizers of the anti-nuclear movement, which was responsible for a number of violent attacks on nuclear power plants and other targets.

The CPUSA's Recent Support for Violence against Police

In recent years, the CPUSA has increasingly aligned itself with other radical left-wing groups that advocate for violence against the police. In 2014, the CPUSA issued a statement in support of the Black Lives Matter movement, which has been responsible for a number of violent attacks on police officers. In 2016, the CPUSA endorsed the candidacy of Bernie Sanders for president, who has called for an end to the "war on drugs" and the "militarization of the police."

The CPUSA's support for violence against the police is a threat to our communities and our democracy. The police are the thin blue line that stands between us and chaos. They deserve our support, not our condemnation.

The Dangers of Communist Infiltration

The CPUSA is a small organization, but it has a long history of infiltrating other organizations, including the Democratic Party. The CPUSA's goal is to use these organizations to promote its own agenda, which includes support for violence against the police.

The CPUSA's infiltration of other organizations is a threat to our democracy. It allows the CPUSA to spread its propaganda and recruit new members. It also gives the CPUSA a platform to influence policy and promote its agenda.

How to Fight Back against Communism

There are a number of things we can do to fight back against communism. First, we need to be aware of the threat that communism poses to our communities and our democracy. Second, we need to support our police officers and let them know that we appreciate their service. Third, we need to educate ourselves about communism and its dangers. Finally, we need to vote for candidates who support our law enforcement officers and who will not tolerate communism.

The Communist Attack on Police is a serious threat to our communities and our democracy. We must not allow the CPUSA to spread its propaganda and recruit new members. We must support our police officers and let them know that we appreciate their service. We must educate ourselves about communism and its dangers. And we must vote for candidates who support our law enforcement officers and who will not tolerate communism.
